

Disrupting Anti-Indigenous Racism: A Forum Theatre Workshop for Trainees & Peers

Date: Wednesday, June 1, 2022

Time: 1:00-4:00 pm

Where: Foothills Campus Health Sciences Centre (HSC), 3330 Hospital Drive, NW Calgary

Host: Cumming School of Medicine. Facilitated by Michele DeCottignies of Stage Left, a community arts corporation with more than 25 years experience with Theatre of the Oppressed methodologies for social justice and change

What: Join our Indigenous Health Leadership Pathways graduate class to explore forum theatre methods as a tool for disrupting anti-Indigenous racism for system and structural transformation

Who: Critical students, researchers, and health providers connected to Indigenous Health in the Calgary area are welcome to join.

Please RSVP interest Rita at rihender@ucalgary.ca (parking on campus is generally about $15 for the afternoon). Please RSVP so someone can meet you at north entrance to HSC to guide to room