AUDITION CALL - DANCERS

Live and Live-Streamed Performance, Recorded Performance – NON-UNION - PAID

August 29th, 2022 – Calgary, AB

How violent are the battles waged inside of ourselves to try and conform to our programming? How much damage is being done? How can we combat the constant attack of advertising and cultural indoctrination that has permeated so deeply into our daily lives? From our capitalist hellscape, the influence of social media, societal pressure to conform to the lifestyle of a conservative fever-dream. So deeply rooted are these ideas that there is no need for them to be subliminal or even liminal, they are simply right there, in the open.

Sublimity - A LOVE SUPREME is a one-act interdisciplinary show for 3 actors and 3 dancers. It is about challenging systems and challenging traditional theatre forms and expectations.

The play takes place in an imagined reality, where citizens are separated into two classes. This world is tightly controlled, and the citizens no longer question how things are and simply accept that this is how it is. The society is guided by 34 'Citizen Laws' that were written in a time no one remembers. Then, something shifts.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

ROLE - DANCER - Age 20+ - Any gender

3 Roles:

- 1 Dancer with a speaking role. Please submit both the movement improvisation and the spoken audition text.
- 2 Dancers (no speaking). Please submit only the movement improvisation.

The play takes place in an imagined reality, where citizens are separated into two classes. The upper class are the Citizens, played by the actors, who are programmed and controlled until they no longer remember who they are. The Humanoids are the lower class, played by the dancers, who are treated as empty until they are subjected to the procedure of programming. The Humanoids exist in a liminal, non-linear space within the world of the play and the show itself. Sometimes they interpret and embody the themes of the script, and sometimes they are active participants in the narrative.

This is not a traditional play and not a traditional dance performance. It is abstract and poetic, and the audience's experience follows an emotional narrative, more than a literary one.

Please include each of the following:

Movement Improvisation (Self-Tape or In-Person): Please perform a short interpretation (up to 2 minutes) in response to the attached audition text, without music. This does not need to be choreographed. Use any platform you are comfortable with, or reach out to us if you need help. Please be clearly visible, but you do not need to be in a neutral or blank studio space.

Artistic primer: Please attach some document that gives some context about your experience as a performer or your approach to artistic creation. This does not have to be a long document, just some information about you as a dancer. This can be a resume, CV, or brief artistic statement. If you send text, please submit a pdf. If sending the primer as a video, please keep it shorter than two minutes and link it along with your Self Tape. We're open to all backgrounds of performers, theatre, film, performance art, music, and everything in-between.

Headshot: Please attach a photo of your face. Or a few if you like. Please ensure that one of them is portrait or headshot style.

OPTIONAL if submitting for the speaking role - Audition Text (Self-Tape or In-Person): Please perform the attached audition text and submit a link to your video with the rest of the submission package. Use any platform you are comfortable with, or reach out to us if you need help. Please be clearly visible and heard with a neutral background, but do not worry about high production values.

Please ensure that you are available for the dates listed above. Rehearsals will most likely happen in the evenings.

How to Submit:

If submitting a self-tape, please send your materials to dancingmonkeylab@gmail.com with the subject line DANCER AUDITION and your name by September 24th.

AUDITION TEXT:

*To be presented twice. Once in a monotone, a bit emotionless, and the second time, a little more desperate, with some cracks showing.

I recognize my role in the system. I pledge and participate in the processes established for my well-being. Hours spent straddling the void between conscious and unconscious. A void that hides in the cover of darkness. I will not tolerate these thoughts in myself or another. I acknowledge the danger and seditiousness of questions. I know we would attempt to answer them and we would have no trouble doing so when we will be permitted to sleep as we will need to wake. I recognize my role in the system. I pledge and participate in the processes established for my well-being. I wish I remembered the last time I felt anything. I acknowledge the danger and seditiousness of experiencing a feeling. They are lost in the void, but have not been voiced out loud. I will not tolerate these... (pause) If they were, there would need to be explanations. It is not that my heart is damaged, but that it has too vivid an imagination, capable of impossible narratives between beats. Lost in the wake.
